

"Government in action always operates with undertones of violence, either overt or covert, and this makes it an inappropriate instrument to accomplish all the goals politicians promise and people demand."

Violence Awaited Negro Here, State Official Says

By RAY HERST
Gazette Telegraph Staff Writer

Chains, guns and ropes were awaiting a Negro serviceman if he attempted to move into the Pia-Mor Mobile Village a state anti-discrimination official said here Friday.

George J. Roybal, field representative for the commission, made the statement during testimony in a civil rights hearing into charges that Sgt. Bernard E. Jones of the Air Defense Command was refused trailer space at the Village because he was a Negro.

Roybal said that the statement was made to him and another agent by Frank Weatherly, owner of the trailer court located at 3100 Wood Ave.

The agent said that Weatherly told him that he would not rent to Negroes regardless of the law and ordered the state agents from the office.

"He said that if a Negro moved in," Roybal testified, "the people at the court were prepared with chains, guns and ropes to drive him out."

Weatherly denied he made the statement.

Fielder Family Ready to Move Into Shoup Place

W. O. Fielder, owner of a string of 27 Hasty House Restaurants throughout this country and in Switzerland, will buy the three-acre Broadmoor estate of Merrill E. Shoup, local industrialist and businessman.

The sale, for an undisclosed price, will take place within the next 10 days, spokesman said.

Fielder moved his corporation's international offices here a year ago. He established his headquarters on the fourth floor of the Exchange National Bank.

Fielder, his wife and seven children, who now live at 1205 N. Cascade Ave., plan to move into the 28-room house as soon as possible after the sale has been completed.

Mr. and Mrs. Shoup bought the estate, which includes five garages and two stables, in 1947. The couple recently leased an apartment at the new Saturn Towers in Skyway Park and will begin moving next week.

The Broadmoor home, located at 17 Broadmoor Ave., is three stories high and includes 13 bedrooms.

Mr. and Mrs. Shoup will keep their collection of art treasures and historic furnishings. Shoup has donated his library to Colorado College and the couple has donated a number of art works to the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center.

The new owner opened the first Hasty House restaurant in Colorado Springs last year and a new unit will be opened today on East Fillmore Street.

Prior to coming to Colorado Springs, the corporation operated the drive-in restaurants in several states and in Switzerland.

G. D. White Given Year on Check Charge

G. D. White was sentenced to one to three years in the state penitentiary Friday for short check.

White, 32, of Gordon, W. Va., pleaded guilty May 10 to giving a $15 short check to Millers Super Markets April 16.

Testimony was given by an employee of the store, Charles E. Stamps.

The presiding judge, David W. Enoch said there was a hold on the defendant for a similar offense in Denver and that he did not feel "the chances of success sufficient to warrant probation."

U.S. Ready To Use Force At Alabama U.

night's disturbance involving several hundred persons, mostly white.

Violence, punctuated by gunfire, came a day after some Negroes had sought service at segregated cafes, a theater and a bowling alley in downtown Lexington.

Mayor C. V. Sink met with the City Council and law enforcement officers to study the situation while conditions appeared about normal in the downtown business section. Lexington is about 30 miles southwest of Greensboro, scene of a series of anti-segregation demonstrations in recent weeks.

Farmville, Va.

FARMVILLE, Va. (AP) — The governing body of rural Prince Edward County listened Friday to six speakers urge the reopening of public schools, then enacted a budget containing no funds for school operations.

Unless there is court action before September, the county will go into its fifth consecutive year as the nation's only locality with out public schools.

Prince Edward closed its public schools in 1959 to avoid court-ordered integration. The county was included in the U.S. Supreme Court's original school desegregation decision in 1954.

The county's white children have attended a system of private, segregated schools since public schools were closed. But the approximately 1,500 Negro school-age children in Prince Edward have been without formal education, except for a handful who enrolled in schools elsewhere.

Zasu Pitts Dies Of Cancer, Was Star in Movies

They had two children, a daughter, Ann, and an adopted son, Don.

The friendly actress was born in Parsons, Kan., Jan. 3, 1900, acquiring her unusual first name because her father had two sisters who each wanted her name bestowed on the little girl. Mr. Pitts took the last syllable of Eliza and the first syllable of Susan for his baby. The family later moved to Santa Cruz, Calif.

For years, the actress was kidding about her name. Once she replied, "both Zasu and Pitts are my real names and frankly I don't see anything funny about either of them."

Most movie fans remember Miss Pitts as the star of whacky comedies that delighted a generation of Americans. She was, however, a serious actress in silent pictures, scoring an early success in "Greed" before the advent of talkies.

With the arrival of talkies, Miss Pitts continued as a serious actress. But her quavering voice gave producers the idea that she would be a good comedienne.

Showdown Set For Britain in Profumo Incident

MIS — British intelligence — in 1961 that both Profumo and Ivanov were involved with his protege, Christine.

The Labor party apparently was aiming to challenge Macmillan on how he could remain inactive in face of these purported facts.

Under the pressure of the outcry from Conservative backbenchers and Laborites alike, Profumo Friday "begged leave to be excused" from the interview with Queen Elizabeth normally accorded to senior ministers who resign.

"He has been told that his request has been granted," an announcement from Profumo's lawyers said.

Meanwhile, Miss Keeler was grabbing headlines in her own right at the old Bailey Court, where Jamaican jazz singer Aloysius Lincoln (Lucky) Gordon, 31, was sentenced to three years in jail for beating her up.

Friday night, about 50 men still were on the job and will begin mopping up today.

The fire was reported to be of unknown origin.

Locally, Company No. 1 responded to a call at 12:04 p.m. from the Park Department which had been spreading fertilizer and peat moss on the center parking at Vermijo and Nevada.

The fire was a mile west of the Munson store on Shoup Road and some 40 members of the Black Forest department turned out.

The fire was discovered at 11:30 a.m. but was under control an hour later. Firemen were still mopping up well into the afternoon on Friday. No buildings caught fire.

Here's 'Instant' Boat Building--

Build Your Own Dinghy in One Weekend

By BILL MEYERIECKS
Choose any weekend and put it to good use constructing your own sturdy dinghy for summer fun and relaxation. Sounds difficult? It's not at all when you follow the procedure detailed in the Sketchbook Dinghy plan, S-113. This plan has proven to be one of the most popular of the Sketchbook series with many thousands of requests to its record.

Its popularity is obvious. Starting from scratch, we built the pilot model pram from the plan in one weekend. That doesn't include painting, since you have to let the paint dry between coats. But you can be in the water one week after you buy your lumber.

The only power tools used to make the boat were a portable saw and rotary sander. Hand tools, of course, can be used to do the same job at a slower pace.

What's more, the boat materials can be purchased for between \$30 and \$35, depending mainly on what the charge is in your area for the two sheets of  $\frac{1}{4}$ " exterior plywood which form the sides and bottom. In the high priced New York area, we had to pay \$14.00 for plywood alone. In many areas it will sell for less.

The two plywood sheets are the main item on the lumber bill. Only other substantial items in the boat shopping list are a pint of waterproof glue and a large quantity of brass screws.

With this outfit and a weekend's carpentry, you get a broad-beamed, snub-nosed pram with an over-all length of 7' 10" and a beam amidships of 46". It will accommodate up to three adults or more children. If you don't like to row, you can put a small kicker (up to  $1\frac{1}{2}$  horse) on the stern.

The boat weighs only 60 pounds, one man can pick it up. It slides easily into the rear of a station wagon or rides lightly on the roof of a sedan. You can launch it with one quick heave wherever you find some water.

The secret of its simplicity and speed of construction is the fool-proof jig on which it's built. The SKETCHBOOK plan, a real bargain on this project at only 50 cents, tells you exactly how to prepare it and takes you through the boat assembly step by step in language everyone can understand.

If you want a boat for fishing or just for fun, here's your chance to get afloat at a remarkably low price in money and in time.

ADD FAMILY ROOM

If you have a garage which has good stud walls, you can finish this structure into an attractive family room for relatively little money. You can apply inexpensive wood paneled walls over the bare studs to create a beautiful room and use acoustical tile for the ceiling.

FOR FISHIN' OR FAMILY FUN: This "instant" boat was built in one weekend for less than $35. It's roomy, safe and easy to handle on water or land. The do-it-yourself plan tells you what to buy and takes you through every step in construction. In plain, easily understood language. To order Dinghy Plan S-113, fill in the blanks below, cut out this coupon, and mail with 50 cents to SKETCHBOOK, in care of this newspaper.

Warm, Vibrant Colors Make Decorating News

When experts pool their talents! Pale lavender walls were used as they do at home - furnishings markets, one is likely to get a clearer-than-usual picture of what to use with what.

A person who likes a vibrant orange chair will find it looks terrible when placed next to a white wall. But give it an olive or brown - green background, and the piece mellows.

Recent markets in Chicago and New York clearly point to the use of bright upholsteries, fabrics and painted furniture, all flattering to new Spanish, Mediterranean and other traditional and contemporary influences.

Bright warm reds, acquamarine, Persian pink, lavender, purples, blues from iridescent medium to indigo were found in more upholstered pieces and draperies than heretofore.

So, how to use these colors successfully if you are your own decorator?

For one thing, you'll probably need a new paint job.

Olive - green walls were used to set off a dining room set upholstered in palest melon. Walls in a brown - green range set off upholstery upholstered in orange with another piece covered in a print of an orange - green and tawny brown.

Sometimes one can manage by painting one existing white wall a color so that the room can "take it." This was accomplished in a bedroom setting. A bright red upholstered occasional chair and a bedspread and pillows were of the same bright hue as the wall behind the headboard. The other three walls were left white, and the consensus was that an exciting red-on-red picture was created.

Wall colors were often the same shade as colors in upholstered pieces. This was true of bright blue used in dining, living, den and foyer settings. In some instances a deeper indigo blue or a "hot brown" paint was used.

In one room setting, a hot, true orange was used for both upholstery and one wall. But a little orange can go a long way, and if one is working without a decorator it is wise to temper one's instincts toward vivid walls. It isn't wise, either, to have more than one large upholstered piece or two small ones in that hue.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS*First Handyman Project Must Be Practical One

New home owners about ready to join the ranks of the do-it-yourselfer shouldn't tackle a major project on their first effort. A failure might deter them from trying again.

So look for an easy project, such as lining an ordinary clothes closet with aromatic red cedar. An extremely practical project, a closet lined with red cedar gives protection against moths and provides a place to store out-of-season clothes and furs.

The job is easy because it requires only a hammer and saw. Each piece of red cedar closet lining is tongue - and - groove to simplify fitting. Cedar closet lining is sold at lumber yards in packages. Each package contains pieces of various lengths.

Figuring the amount of material needed is easy. Simply multiply the height by the width. For instance, a section with an 8 foot ceiling and a wall 4 feet wide would require 32 square feet of material. When making the calculations, include the floor and ceiling, too.

Lining a closet with cedar does not require tearing down old walls or plaster. Cedar closet lining is applied over any existing wall surface. First, of course, clear the walls of any hooks or fixtures.

Start at the bottom and work up. Put the first piece of cedar, groove down, in a horizontal position at the bottom of one wall. If this piece is too long, cut it to fit.

In cutting cedar, always cut the tongue end so that the remaining piece can be fitted above the first piece to start a new row. The idea is to complete one row and then proceed to the next.

The best way to fasten the cedar strips to the wall is with small finishing nails. Nail into the studs, which can be located by tapping the wall with a hammer. When the tapping has a flat sound instead of a hollow one, the stud has been located. To make sure, drive in a nail.

Mark the location of the stud with a vertical pencil line along the length of the stud. Then nail along the line.

Finish one wall at a time before starting on another. By this time the ob will be going well, and you can start thinking about the ceiling. Use the same application techniques for the ceiling.

Whenever possible, line the inside surface of the closet door to gain maximum benefit from the red cedar fragrance. If the door isn't lined, weatherstrip it to prevent the moth - repelling cedar aroma from escaping.

Painting the cedar lining is in place, apply quarter - round cedar molding to all wall, ceiling and floor junctions to give the closet a finished, professional appearance.

Paint or varnish isn't needed to finish the closet. Red Cedar should not be finished since paint or varnish would seal in the aroma. An occasional wiping with a cloth will keep red cedar fresh and effective.

Painted chairs are further dramatized by the use of contrasting hues in cushions, and in some instances these can be dramatic, depending upon where the chair is to be used. Black and white checkered patterns are popular for red, white and blue painted chairs.

Lining a closet with aromatic red cedar will take 10 to 12 hours, and the inexperienced handyman should take his time and avoid mistakes. Take a little extra time, if necessary, to assure a good job.

Wood Lounge Deck Can Be Petite and Posh, Too

You don't have to be a millionaire to have a wood lounge deck. And you don't have to be Mr. Knox to have an elegant deck.

Wood decks are enormously popular today because they are so kind to home owners' pocketbooks, especially if the head man is handy with hammer and saw.

Then, unless the site presents unusual technical difficulties, he can build the deck himself.

Elegance comes naturally to a wood deck. The material itself is richly endowed with texture and color. In addition, it is easily shaped and fitted to create individual effects.

Even a simple rectangle can be downright posh when the designer has given his imagination room to wiggle. For example, a new streamlined look can be obtained by laying Douglas fir 2x4 deck boards on edge rather than flat.

It's smart planning and dollar-saving to let the deck weather naturally. The soft silver shade that results from weathering is lovely. Paint on the surface of the deck can be attractive, but requires constant maintenance because of heavy traffic. Brilliant color can be used, however, as accents. Vermillion or cobalt blue on the structural members exposed through the screen or on a railing could be rich and would point up the beauty of the naturally weathered wood. Colorful patio furniture, too, acts as accent.

Religious Conflict Makes Viet Nam Strife Worse

EDITOR'S NOTE — Religious conflict is complicating the problems of South Viet Nam. Some consider the Buddhist uprising there a more serious challenge to the pro-Western government of President Ngo Dinh Diem than the jungle warfare waged by Communist guerrillas. Here a skilled observer of Southeast Asia gives his appraisal of the new danger.

By MALCOLM W. BROWNE
SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Yellow-robed Buddhist monks, pledged to nonviolence, present one of the most serious threats which President Ngo Dinh Diem's pro-Western government has faced in its eight stormy years.

Diem's officials are worried that the unarmed demonstrators may be more than a match for their large, American-advised army, battle-tested though it is in jungle fighting against Communist guerrillas.

Until now, the Viet Cong Communist guerrillas—led and armed from neighboring North Viet Nam—have been the only force Diem has been unable to overcome.

But the religious revolt is ominous in a country where 80 percent of the population is Buddhist, ruled by an authoritarian Roman Catholic president.

To meet it:

Security troops are on the move throughout the country.

Secret police are everywhere.

The presidential palace in Saigon and neighboring streets have been converted into a fortress.

Police are circulating questionnaires to all families, requiring declarations of any religious or political affiliations.

Public assemblies have been banned and nothing may be published without review by government propaganda.

Hundreds of persons, including Buddhist monks caught distributing propaganda, have been arrested.

Diem has evidently decided to pursue the same tough line that has checked most opposition movements. Heretofore all non-Communist opposition to the government has been split into factions, disorganized and ineffective.

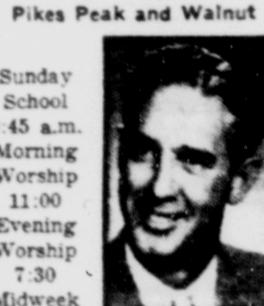

In 1960, rebel army units seized Saigon but collapsed within a few days for lack of organization.

But there are strong indications many different political factions see in the Buddhist movement a potential united front against the government. The Viet Cong itself has adapted its propaganda against the government to the theme of religious oppression.

A movement which one month ago was a scattering of Buddhist demonstrators has become a powerful political factor.

It began May 8, observed internationally as Buddha's birthday. The government had forbidden the public display of any

MY ANSWER

QUESTION: My husband does not make enough for us to live on and I have recently taken a job. Now we find that our absence from home is affecting our children. We are caught in the middle of two dilemmas. What should we do? —Mrs. T. B.

ANSWER: Yours is a problem faced by many people and our society is being adversely affected by it. When you say your husband "does not make enough for us to live on," do you really mean that? Is it possible that you are demanding for your family a living standard which is too high? Also, if your children are being affected by the absence of both parents from the home, it is obvious that you must make a decision, and make it very quickly.

If you do not give the proper home life to your children, no one else will. They need, and are due to have, that sense of security which comes from a home and parents to whom they turn.

We have been in a fight for freedom of religion and social justice in South Viet Nam," one monk said. "We will fight until we win—not violently, of course."

None of the monks has said whether they are trying to overthrow the government. All say part of the day when your children wish to cooperate with the dren are in school. Otherwise let them go to college in Spokane. Washington in the Fall, while we have first. What profit for your family if the combined wages you and your husband receive should make by the Buddhist movement could it possible to have a lot more send the country into chaos. The Viet Cong almost certainly would, and to lose your children, and that warm love and fellowship which is to be found only in a Christian home.

Churches Are Used For Other Meetings

NORTHPORT, N.Y. (AP) — A point of the Pavilion of The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints' Mormon at the 1964-65 New York World's Fair will be a 127-foot square, flanked by two smaller towers, replicas of the east spires of the famed Salt Lake City Temple of the Church. Crowning the main tower will be a gilded statue of the Angel Moroni. Soaring 12 stories above the Fair grounds, the spires will be visible far from the Fair.

Phone Operator Gets Surprise Call

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Mrs. Birda Farrington, veteran long distance telephone operator, recuperating from mitral valve heart operation talked with all of her three sisters and six brothers in a "conference" call from her hospital bed. The calls were a gift from the "Surprise Club," an organization among telephone operators.

One such building has been used as a factory for a book publishing company and as a retail store. Others now are community libraries, summer stock theaters, antique shops, and private residences.

The Rev. Mr. Hurlburt will speak briefly on the subject, "Acceptable Dedication." Music for the service will be provided by the Chapel Choir and one of the church soloists.

Classes Being Held At First Presbyterian

A series of Bible Studies is being presented and discussed at the Christian Home Builders Class of the First Presbyterian.

The class is composed mostly of married couples and meets every Sunday in the East Dining Room at 9:30 a.m.

"The Last Days" is the theme of the series. Over 40 new members have enrolled thus far this year. Jerry and Sue Palmer are presidents of the class.

Parents who desire to register their children may do so by calling the church at 634-5356.

RE-ELECTION

Hobby Becomes Full-Time Publishing

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Esther Faigan has been a book publisher in New Zealand 16 years. So when she opened an Auckland newspaper last fall she knew from long experience what she had to do.

Here was the story of 12 men who had survived 101 days after shipwreck without food or water on the Minerva Reef, kept alive by the heroic Capt. David Fifita and his daily prayer meetings for the castaways.

This was the kind of courageous survival that stirs public imagination—and sends hopeful prickles up the spine of any publisher worth his hardcover bindings. Obviously, the thing to do was to get publication rights.

As Mrs. Faigan related it here on her way to the American Booksellers Association convention in Washington next week, she flew immediately to Fiji. That's where the survivors were hospitalized. She cajoled, exerted charm and finally made it to the bedside of the indomitable captain.

There British-born Mrs. Faigan pulled one of the year's memorable coups. Publishing offers, wired from as far off as London, were piling up. But who could resist the enchanting logic of an attractive, vivacious blonde who came personally to plead her case? Not gallant Capt. Fifita.

Triple B Guest ranch north of Woodland Park was the location for the senior dinner held on May 28. Mrs. Helen Field and Mr. J. M. Konselman, senior sponsors with teachers Miss Merrily Cuffman, Superintendent and Mrs. W. Bundy, were special guests.

Calhan News

By MRS. ALICE CRAIG

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bateman of Colorado Springs are parents of a girl born May 18. She has been named Evan Marie. Mr. and Mrs. George Kocera of Calhan are the maternal grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. John Huck of Canon City spent Memorial Day in Calhan visiting their niece Mrs. Ellis Gaddy, Mr. Gaddy and Patty. The Hucks formerly lived here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adelman announce the arrival of two grandsons. On May 21, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Adelman of Limon became the parents of a boy, Charles Douglas, and on May 25, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Brown of Colorado Springs became the parents of a son, Leroy Anthony. The three older Brown children, Nancy, Sharon and Lenny spent last week with their grandparents. Mrs. Adelman spent several days in Limon with Bill's family.

Guests at the Frank Adelman home Memorial Day were Catherine and Stanley Adelman and Dick Millard of Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Mary Brandon of Wichita, Kan. and Mrs. Ronald Skinner of Tulsa, Okla., were guest at the C. E. Skinner home recently. Mrs. Ronald Skinner, accompanied by John Skinner, left for Tulsa May 29 and Mrs. Brandon stayed for a longer visit. She is an aunt of Mr. Skinner. John has made his home in Calhan with his grandparents and was graduated recently from the Calhan High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Hoffman and Mrs. Alice Barber went to Kansas to spend Memorial Day and visit relatives and friends for several days.

Essie Sayles spent Memorial Day in Calhan. He has recently been released from a Colorado Springs hospital and staying at the home of his son Edwin in Colorado Springs for the present.

Memorial Day visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Marshbanks and family were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hopson and family and Miss Nancy Hopson of Colorado Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hopson of Broomfield; Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hopson, and C. T. Sade of Simla.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Marshbanks and grandson Carl, Mr. and Mrs. Atlas Jolly and Calvin, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kocera of Calhan and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Marshbanks and Stanley Jr. of Rush went to Karvel fishing Memorial Day.

Mrs. Emma Tarpenning spent several days in eastern Colorado last week. On May 27, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Nelson of Buffalo, Wyo. came by and she accompanied them to Otis and Seibert where they visited their other sisters and brothers. Mrs. Iva Blair of Colorado Springs also went with them. Mrs. Tarpenning, Mrs. Blair and Mrs. Nelson are sisters and another sister Mrs. Art Miller and Mr. Miller brought Mrs. Tarpenning and Mrs. Blair home, as the Nelsons were enroute to South Carolina to visit their daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe McFarlin went to Denver Saturday night to attend the homecoming of the Colorado worthy grand matron of the Eastern Star Order.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Craig and Gary and Miss Linda Kanuch attended the Baccalaureate Service at the Colorado School for the Deaf and the Blind Sunday morning. At noon the Craigs, Miss Kanuch, Miss Joyce Craig, Jerome Aregi, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Lazor and children Jody and Kris, Mrs. Mildred Allen and Pauline all enjoyed a picnic in a park before attending the graduation services at the school in the afternoon. Joyce Craig was a member of the graduating class. Others from Calhan who attended the afternoon services were Mr. and Mrs. Hank Fosha and family and Mr. and Mrs. George Elwood, also former Calhanites Mr. and Mrs. Fred Waggoner.

Miss Joyce Craig and Jerome Aregi Jr. attended the wedding Sunday evening of Miss Diane Lawson and Harley Lee in Walsenburg. Miss Craig stayed in Colorado Springs as a houseguest of Mr. and Mrs. Dee Hampton until Tuesday when she returned home with her mother for the summer months.

Mrs. John Kanuch returned home Saturday from a Colorado Springs hospital where she spent last week undergoing tests and treatment.

The Calhan Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Lydia Warren May 15 at the Methodist Fellowship hall. Eight members were present. Dinner was served by the hostess and the president Mrs. Helen Wilson presided at the afternoon business meeting. Plans were made to have a sack lunch in the Calhan Park at the June meeting and make a tour of the Ramah dam and to several fallout shelters in the area. Members are to meet about 11:30 a.m. June 19 at the park for lunch before starting on the tour.

Miss Robeta Fox has accepted a job at the Elwood Grocery Store. Her mother Mrs. Junior Fox has resigned her job there. The Hobby Club met at the home of Mrs. Opal McFarlin near Ellicott Tuesday.

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Clarksville's City Council has authorized desegregation of all public park facilities, Mayor Charles Crow indicated Thursday night.

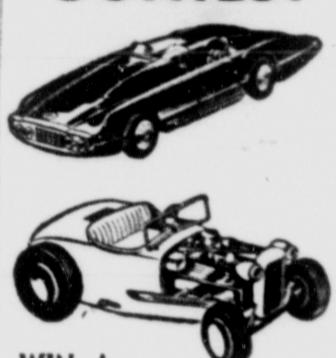

After a closed session of the council, Crow said it had authorized him to say that all park facilities are open to the public, effective last Saturday. He declined to comment further and would not say why the action was retroactive.

The action affects three public swimming pools, about 10 baseball and softball fields, grills and hiking paths.

Clarksville's theaters and schools and most public eating facilities have already been desegregated.

Four Broadmoor Caddies To Get Evans Scholarships

Four more caddies who have worked at the Broadmoor Golf Club have been awarded college scholarships by the Western Golf Association. These four will join two others at Colorado University this fall, making six caddies from the Broadmoor winning the Chick Evans grants-in-aid.

The caddies from the Pikes Peak Region were among nine Colorado boys announced as scholarship winners by Roy W. (Wally) Walholm, Western Golf Association director for the past two decades. Approximately 130 new scholarships will be awarded before the end of the summer throughout the nation.

Winners from the Broadmoor Golf Club were as follows:

Randy Berry, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Berry, Jr., 408 Yucca Dr.

Bruce Chiddister, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Chiddister, 430 Cypress Dr.

Stephen Gentle, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Zarman, Denver.

Jerry Harpstrite, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tony C. Harpstrite, 1732 W. Kiowa.

This caddie scholarship program originated in 1930 by Chick Evans, one of the most famous amateur golfers the world has ever known. Since that time approximately 1,500 scholarships have been awarded by the WGA. Two years ago was the first time a local boy had qualified for the grant, however.

Each scholarship covers tuition and room rent and is renewable for four years. Its value ranges from $2,500 to $5,000, depending on which school is attended.

Financial support for the Evans program comes from 45,000 golfers throughout the country, including members of the Broadmoor Golf Club. Also support is derived from Western Open championships, which is played annually in Chicago, and the World Seniors tournament at the Broadmoor in August.

This year it's expected that one of the finest fields in history will attend the World Seniors tournament with entries from several nations already registered.

Berry and Harpstrite are graduates of Palmer High School in Colorado Springs and Chiddister is a graduate of Wadsworth High School in Security. Gentle got his diploma from Lakewood High School near Denver.

Scout Softball Program Enters Second Round

The second week's slate for 65 teams in the Cub Scouts Softball program is scheduled today on fields throughout the city, according to R. R. Lynch, Scout Council softball chairman.

More than 2,000 Cub Scouts are entered in six divisions of play. Coaches and umpires are volunteers from the packs and interested fans from practically every neighborhood in Colorado Springs.

Each pack plays a round-robin schedule with the eight to 10 teams assigned to each division. Junior division teams include Cubs 8 to 9½ years old, the Senior division is for Cubs 9½ to 11 years old, and the Mixed division is for Cub Scouts of 8 thru 11 years old.

Rules call for every Scout to play at least part of every game, provided he attends practice games and is an active Cub Scout.

More than 100 fathers and friends of scouting have volunteered to serve as coaches, and 50 men have volunteered to serve as umpires.

Cherry's Dual Career

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (UPI) — Don Cherry is known to millions of record fans as a popular song singer, but along the professional golf circuit he is regarded as a solid player who gets better all the time.

Friels said his first duties will be to set up an officials' bureau and a statistics bureau for the loop, which begins formal basketball competition next season.

He also must acquaint himself with the new league by-laws, passed Thursday by the college presidents in a meeting at Spokane. The code restricts the number of athletic scholarships to 90 for each school.

PP Tennis Tournament Starts Today

The 14th Annual Pikes Peak Open Tennis Tournament kicks off today at 9 a.m. with the men's and women's singles at Monument Valley Park courts in Colorado Springs. Sunday's card calls for doubles competition.

Tourney director Douglas Corley announced that the entry deadline for men's doubles has been extended until today at 11 a.m. Those desiring to enter this division may do so by contacting Corley or Ron Biddle, assistant tourney director, at the Monument Valley Park courts. The deadline for the junior division (for both girls and boys) has been extended until noon Sunday.

Today's action will be strictly an individual effort as single play being the order of the day. Bill Ellwanger of Denver, seeded number one player in the men's singles, is scheduled to meet Des Ros Hogue at 3 p.m. Jerry Bennett of Colorado Springs, seeded number two player in the men's singles, is set to clash with F. K. Newcomer Jr. at 3 p.m.

Last year's winner Jack Terborg of Denver was slated to compete again this year but he was forced to withdraw because of illness in his family. Doug Corley Jr., son of the tourney director, was runner-up last year.

Some 78 entries will compete in the tournament on six courts. The junior division is scheduled to begin Monday at 9 a.m.

The public is invited to attend the matches free of charge and limited seating is available.

'Let Freedom Ring'

There's a movement underway vor and Memorial Day. Decorations in the nation to place additional Day, United Nations Day, emphasis upon the concept of United States Day, Constitution independence and freedom on Day, and so on, have emerged to July 4, 1963. There are a number east, a kind of shade over the of factors which are worthy of occasion.

support and encouragement.

Also, so many states and cities before the Congress which embodies a resolution that on July hands on this day, that the sheer 4th year and each year hereafter, the anniversary of the these occasions is somewhat under a pall. A lot of people simply dependence is to be observed the day as a reason to ring the bells throughout the land.

The movement carries the colorful title, "Let Freedom Ring." We understand that Columbia Pictures plans to make a film feature of some of the famous bells and carillons in several of the states and doubtless this film feature will appear in movie houses and possibly on television.

Some of the state legislatures (Connecticut, California and Illinois) have passed resolutions setting the time for the ringing of the bells at 2:00 p.m. Eastern Daylight time, so as to synchronize the chiming from coast to coast. We understand that a special ceremony in Philadelphia will be televised and that a number of state governors have joined in with the program and will encourage a general ringing of bells at that hour on July 4th. The Colorado Arkansas Valley, Inc., is going to sponsor "Let Freedom Ring" in the Arkansas Valley and is taking an inventory of bells in churches, schools and municipal buildings in each town in the valley.

It appears likely, in view of the rather significant support this idea is receiving, that come July 4th we are going to hear some bells rung, and in itself this isn't a bad idea.

But if the program, "Let Freedom Ring," will encourage a bit of introspection into our current situation and possibly a bit of courage in standing up in favor of freedom and independence down. It used to be considered our most important political from a domineering state, then observance. Now it has lost fa-surely it will be worth while.

THE SEARCH

I sought the truth along familiar trails
That I had followed many, many days
And found it not, a fact my heart bewails,
For we do grow to love familiar ways.

But still the truth I much desired to find,
And still the great desire drove me to seek
The truth—the heart is subject to the mind,
It's followed only if the mind is weak.

I sought the truth in fields unknown to me,
Along the paths iconoclasts had blazed.
I sought the truth because I would be free,
I cared not whether I was scorned or praised.

Some facts I've found which when my taste for more,

The search for truth's a never-ending chore.

The administration, unable to push us into medicare thru the front door, has finally arranged for us to be smuggled in by the back way.

We will enter thru government "aid" to medical schools, colleges and individual students of medicine.

Too many people don't know and don't take the trouble to find out that the Declaration of Independence is their most important birth right. This document sets the stage for America. It proclaims that each individual has certain rights which may not be set aside. And, in truly revolutionary language it explains that governments of any kind or description are, of necessity, nothing more than a servant to the individual. Let the government begin to counter or abridge the rights of the people and the people have a prior right, the right of taking their government apart and setting up "new guards" for their future security and happiness.

We are going to endorse this idea. Of course we are not simple enough to suppose that by merely ringing of bells freedom is receiving, that come July 4th we are going to hear some bells rung, and in itself this isn't a bad idea.

But if the program, "Let Freedom Ring," will encourage a bit of introspection into our current situation and possibly a bit of courage in standing up in favor of freedom and independence down. It used to be considered our most important political from a domineering state, then observance. Now it has lost fa-surely it will be worth while.

Instead of clamoring for government aid, they should be bending their every effort for a rebate on their taxes for government schools they don't want and don't use. They have already allowed the government to regulate them too much. To cry for government help, even a little bit, is to ask for total government control. But it seems, we all must find some way to board the gravy train.

Governments have never protected anybody from wars. Governments are the only wagers of war and they are protected by the people; how did we ever get the opposite view? Small governments wage small wars, but the bigger the government, the bigger the wars it can wage.

Therefore, if we must have governments, it behoves us to keep them small and weak.

But many believe that the biggest government ever conceived, the U.N. is our "one great hope for peace." Have we already commenced to believe that "war is peace, slavery is freedom, lies are truth?" And with 21 years to go before 1964?

The U.N. waged peace in Korea by bombing hospitals, raping women, butchering babies and raising hell in general, and all this with our consent and support. In fact, we were virtually the only financial backers of this U.N. venture in bringing peace to the Congo.

By kowtowing to the U.N. we lost our first war in Korea. We have lost most of the Far East and Cuba to the communists because of this cancer we have permitted to thrive in our midst.

Now our President proposes to surrender all our armed forces to the U.N.'s control whose military arm is presided over in perpetuity, and with our consent, by a Russian general. There is something sinister going on in these United States that bodes us no good. McCarthy called it "a great conspiracy" and he named names. Events since his untimely death have led many to believe that he knew what he was talking about.

Adam Lyre says: We're certainly living high on the hog nowadays, but I'm glad I won't be around when the bills start coming in.

INTEGRATION

To the Editor:
I learned one thing when I was a boy. You could take two dogs who were good friends and force them to rub noses. If one held them that way long enough it would start a real dogfight. Forced integration by third parties has accomplished that result in the South.

Trouble is only beginning in the South and it is spreading to the North. Forced integration at Oxford has proved nothing and has accomplished even less.

Why does the South fear and fight integration? The answer is they know it is only the first step in the drive to destroy the white race in the South, eventually in the North.

One of the first casualties of the integration hassle in the South has been our so-called freedom of choice. Without it, no one is really free. And no one white or black can stand up today and truthfully say he is a free man.

Many states in the South have laws on the books today against interracial marriages between the whites and Negroes. The West recent talent and hobby show Coast states had laws forbidding the Knights of the Round Table, Oriental and white marriage. Australia has laws forbidding both Orientals and Negroes from citizenship in their country.

There is no hue and cry against them in the U.N., only against the South.

The Supreme Court has destroyed every defense the southern white man has erected to the youth of our community and protect his race and his children from being taken over and racially absorbed by the Negro in the South.

Private schools would be no answer in the South, today. They would be forced to integrate.

As for any private business, freedom of choice is gone there, too. No one in business can select his own help or clientele anymore. This is called free enterprise, today. Katanga was destroyed because it showed that the white and black race could live in equality in the same country. The natives and whites there died side by side defending Katanga's freedom from destruction by U.N. gangsters.

The American Indian has no desire to be absorbed by the white race.

The Negro in the South wants just that, no more, no less. The Southern white doesn't want the job. They don't want to be raped by the Supreme Court or Kennedy. They want to stay white.

That is what is happening now in the South. The white man there is fighting for his very existence with both hands tied behind his back by the Supreme Court.

RACE PROBLEM

To the Editor:
Recently there appeared in Life magazine a feature article on the Black Muslims. The article was written by Gordon Parks, a Negro but non-Muslim writer and photographer for Life magazine. It is from this article that I write the following letter.

The Black Muslims is a Negro religious sect of this country "willing to risk violence to get equality" for the Negro.

These adherents now number perhaps 100,000. Thus, altho the Black Muslim sect is not now ominous in dimension, each day more Negroes turn toward this group as their only hope for a life of decency and equality.

Generally speaking, for nearly 40 years the American Negro has been humiliated and oppressed by the white man. But today a line is drawn by the Muslims. The Black Muslim declares, "Justice now! Freedom now! Not when the white man feels he is finally ready to give it to us!"

For the Muslim, the devil is the white man. The Muslim explains this easily. I quote the major spokesman for the Muslim movement — the minister of the big mosques in New York and Washington — speaking to

Dominick Says U.S. Can Prevail Over Communism

CORTEZ (UPI) — Sen. Peter H. Dominick said Friday America had the power to prevail over international Communism if it had the will.

But he told the 45th annual convention of the Colorado Department of the American Legion he was "not satisfied" with the way the Kennedy Administration was handling all its foreign policy matters.

Dominick, keynote speaker at a joint session of the Legion and its auxiliary, said the Cold War "is as much a war and just as important to win as the Spanish-American War, World War I, World War II and the Korean War."

"We have the firepower, we have the manpower, we have the armed power. But do we have the will power?"

Dominick said French President Charles de Gaulle was opposed to the idea of a NATO nuclear force "because it left the trigger in the hands of Americans. He was unwilling to leave the defense of France to the determination and willpower of the United States."

More than 1,300 delegates were registered for the convention which lasts through Saturday.

Basic Training For Cadet Class Of '67 Due in

Almost before 1963 Air Force Academy graduates have a chance to settle down to their first assignments as brand new second lieutenants, nearly 800 basic cadets will swarm into the Academy to take their place.

Basic training for the Class of 1967 will begin June 24. As in the past, specially selected First Class cadets will guide the newcomers through the seven week indoctrination into Academy life.

Climax of the training will come July 30 with start of the survival training exercise.

Cadet group commander for the first summer detail is James C. Ingram Jr. His staff includes Thomas A. Till, operations officer; John R. Mikels, administrative officer; Thomas E. Kullgren, training officer and Don W. Cryer, materiel officer.

Second detail commander will be Jackson L. Hudson, assisted by Darryl M. Bloodworth, Jeffrey D. Baker, Kevin McManus, and David J. Rickel.

Subjects covered during summer training range from basic military drill and manual of arms with the M-1 rifle to flying orientation and water survival.

No-Account Check Charge Dismissed

A charge of no-account check against Florence L. Toms was dismissed in District Court Friday at the request of the district attorney's office. It was explained the defendant had made full restitution and had left the state.

Mrs. Toms, 35, of 203 Crestwood Rd. was alleged to have given a $20 check April 16 to Palmer House. She was represented by counsel Bruce Craig.

The judge was G. Russell Miller and B. J. O'Leary appeared for the people.

Power Mower, Hub Cap Stolen

Manual C. Burke of 605 Salado St. reported to the sheriff's office Friday that a $100 power mower and a hubcap worth $25 had been stolen from his car.

Deputy Sheriff Ray Carey and Bernard Barry said the mower, a Rotomatic power type, green and cream in color disappeared from Burke's garage sometime during the past week. The hubcap was taken Thursday night.

Carson Soldiers To Be Guests Of Royal Gorge

Soldiers of non-divisional units at Ft. Carson and their families, may visit the Royal Gorge and cross the bridge as guests of the management Sunday.

Troops of the 5th Infantry Division and their families will be invited to a free trip across the world's highest suspension bridge later this summer.

Carson's Special Troop will arrange bus transportation for all U. S. Army Garrison personnel living in the barracks and for off-post families without private transportation Sunday.

Only the Ft. Carson buses and cars bearing Carson bumper stickers will be admitted free to the Royal Gorge area.

This season a new road opened from the south end of the bridge will make a return trip across the span unnecessary for visitors who want to drive on the area through newly opened picnic areas.

To reach the Royal Gorge, Carson drivers can take Highway 115 from the post south to Penrose, then turn right on U. S. 50. Continuing through Canon City, past the state prison, the highway meets the Royal Gorge road about nine miles west of Canon City.

Visitors who cross the bridge and take the south end road out of the Gorge area will rejoin U. S. 50 at Parkdale, four miles beyond the point they turned off to enter the area.

A harbor with the world's largest capacity for iron ore exports is being constructed on the Gulf of Bothnia in northern Sweden.

Man Given Three To Five Years Suspended

A 24-year-old Ft. Carson man, Clem Pierce Jr. was given a suspended sentence of three to five years in the state penitentiary Friday and placed on probation by District Judge David W. Enoch.

Pierce pleaded guilty May 10 to the burglary of the Moors Restaurant, May 7. Originally he was charged with burglary and assault with a deadly weapon but the second count was dismissed before he entered the guilty plea.

The defendant broke into the restaurant in the early hours of May 7 and allegedly threatened a young woman, the bookkeeper, who was working late. A sheriff's report at the time said he was armed with a crowbar. He took $39.95 from the cigarette machine but was apprehended before he left the building.

Another defendant, Bradley Gene Alexander, received a deferred sentence and probation for larceny of a motor vehicle.

Alexander, 21, formerly of Ft. Carson, was accused of stealing a baby carriage from Gary D. Sampson, Nov. 28, of last year.

Before sentencing, Judge Enoch said, "Fortunately there are not many fellows like you around who will commit a stupid violation of the law for the sake of just doing something." The judge also pointed out with some severity the value of the stolen object, it was $28, and the amount of tax payers' money which had been expended on Alexander since his arrest.

The court appointed lawyer Roger Hunt to represent him.

Middleton, a 21-year-old construction worker of Rodeo Court, 304 N. Nevada Ave. has bonds totaling $10,000 and is currently in county jail.

There are two separate charges against him. The first count of charge number one alleges he beat his four-year-old stepdaughter by kicking her and striking her with his fists. The second count accuses him of contributing to the delinquency by encouraging the child to associate with a vicious and immoral person, "namely the defendant, Middleton."

Acting for Judge Allan Asher, Clinton Cole agreed to Isaac's plea and ordered the subpoena.

Isaac also moved to dismiss charges of riotous conduct and breach of peace against Lutero Sandoval, 40, 431 W. Cascade Ave., when the complaining witness failed to appear in court.

Cole also agreed with this motion.

Information contained in the second charge is identical to the first and accuses him of attacking his five-year-old stepson.

According to a sheriff's report Middleton beat the boy with such ferocity that the child was taken to St. Francis Hospital suffering from multiple welts and bruises all over his body together with a badly bruised eye.

The defendant is also alleged to have hurled the child against the wall, beat him with his fists and kicked his as he lay helplessly on the floor. For a time police authorities feared there might be internal injuries, but the boy escaped serious harm.

His sister was also bruised and had welts on her face and body but was not so badly hurt. The sheriff's report said Middleton had been drinking and dragged the two children from their beds and attacked them.

In a traffic case which took an hour and a half to be heard, attorney Paul Evans once again tried to out-smart Isaac by resorting to mathematics.

HOLLYWOOD by Hedda Hopper*Hollywood's Young Set Is Making Sweet Music

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood's younger generation, the sons of the pioneers, are doing fine. Latest moving up the ladder are the Cornells, a musical group made up of sons of Art Linkletter, Loretta Young, Dennis O'Keefe and Charles Correll. The fellows have played everything from cotillions to rock and roll sessions around L.A. for three years, now have an album out.

Bobby Linkletter, the guitarist of the group, chose music because he's sensitive about his dad's name; wanted a field Art knew nothing about. Several years ago he asked for an electric guitar. When papa wouldn't kick thru with the money, Bobby built his own, complete with transformer, and learned to play. Art was so impressed, he got him the best guitar money could buy.

Linkletter likes successful sons, but looks with a jaundiced eye at Jack, who has the big hit "Hootenanny" — the folk singers' haven on TV. But Link keeps rolling along with his 18-year-old house party—with two more to go.

Frances Dee (Mrs. Joel McCrea) is the envy of all mothers. Son Jody invited her to go along on a trip 'round the world, and she's a-goin'. Son David runs their new ranch in Nevada, and the youngest, 8-year-old Peter goes there with Joel to spend the summer farming. When Frances first moved to Thousand Oaks (they recently sold off all but 400 acres for 3 million dollars), she got restless and yearned for the bright lights. "Now you can't get me into town," she says.

Jean Simmons, Richard Brooks and their children flew to London for three months of preparation on "Lord Jim" which will star Peter O'Toole. In his survey of south Pacific locations, Brooks ran into many roadblocks at places where other companies had filmed. The people in those lands are picturewise now and don't like the way some companies behaved. One place turned him down because a member of a crew was caught trying to pry the jewel out of a sacred idol's eye. Brooks says, "All the United States ambassadors I met were dedicated, wonderful men, trying

'Stripper' to Be Shown at Chief

In the title role of "The Stripper," Joanne Woodward turns to another of those demanding dramatic performances like the one which brought her an Academy Award. Joanne plays the part of Lila Green, a beauty contest winner who winds up touring with a sleazy magic act.

The 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope release which opens Wednesday at the Chief Theatre is the valedictory of filmmaker Jerry Wald, who produced such pictures as "Sons and Lovers," "Peyton Place" and "The Long, Hot Summer." He died at age 49, three weeks before photography on the picture was completed. Ironically, the film also marks a beginning — that of director Franklin Schaffner's career in the screen medium after illustrious work in television.

Starring with Joanne Woodward in "The Stripper" are Richard Beymer, Claire Trevor, Carol Lynley, Robert Webber, Gypsy Rose Lee and Louis Nye.

Aircadia Adds Extras Tonight

Two extra features have been added to the regular Aircadia Drive-in Theatre's program for tonight only.

Heading the moviethon, Tony Curtis and Yul Brynner are starred in "Taras Bulba," filmed in color. The second feature, "A Girl Named Tamiko," stars Laurence Harvey and Shirley MacLaine. The third, "Picnic," stars William Holden and Kim Novak. Van Heflin in "Under Two Flags" rounds out the program.

No extra admission is charged for the added features.

'Innocents' Bonus Film at Vista-Vue

A bonus feature has been added to the Vista Vue Drive-in Theatre program for tonight only.

Doris Day and Cary Grant are starred in "That Touch of Mink," filmed in color. The second feature on the program stars Jeff Chandler in "Merrill's Marauders" and the bonus film stars Anthony Quinn in "The Savage Innocents."

No extra admission is charged for the extra feature.

While Philip Barry Jr. is in New York producing seven shows for du Pont, his wife Pat takes to the road with John Forsythe in "Kind Sir." She parked their cat with a sister, the rabbit with a pal, is trying to figure out what to do with their two puppies (fathered by Gardner McKay's sheepdog Pussycat), and takes the two children on tour. Her 12-year-old will work backstage. The 5-year-old will furnish the laughs.

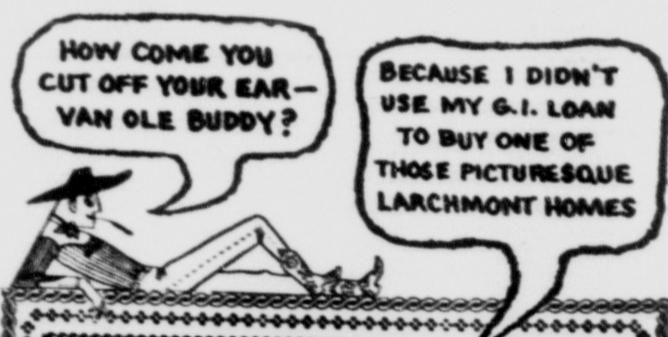

Martin Manulis returns to Warner's to film "The Out of Towners" with Glenn Ford and Geraldine Page. With writer Tad Mosel and director Delbert Mann, he's shaping up the script for an August beginning. Manulis' elder daughter Laurie works for John Houseman at CBS; his younger, Karen, goes to France as an exchange student this summer. . . . Ricardo Montalban returns to Metro as the first guest star in their new TV series The Lieutenant with Gary Lockwood starring. It's about marines, but Ricardo will be a navy man. . . . ## Aircadia Will Show 'Mr. Hobbs'

At a time when the title "star" is less a matter of "personality" than plain, old-fashioned talent, many established movie stars are exploring other areas of show business. Such, at least, is the case of Maureen O'Hara, currently starred with James Stewart in 20th Century-Fox's Cinema-Scope-DeLuxe Color comedy, "Mr. Hobbs Takes a Vacation," due to arrive Sunday at the Aircadia Drive-in Theatre.

Long recognized as one of Hollywood's finest actresses and great natural beauties, Maureen O'Hara's talent in other fields came initially as a surprise to her associates in the film capital. She scored heavily as a singer on "The Perry Como Show," "The Telephone Hour" and "The Dinah Shore Show." Her singing-dancing debut on Broadway in the musical "Christine" received unanimous critical praise. Her dramatic performance on television's "The Scarlet Pimpernel" was hailed as a triumph. Recently she was placed under contract by a record company.

The co-feature, "Gay Purée," is an all color-cartoon featurette with the voice of Judy Garland and Robert Goulet.

Howick Tops Niagra

South Africa's Howick Falls, where the Umgeni-River cascades in one sheer drop twice the height of Niagara, offers a magnificent subject for vacationing camera fans, reports the South African Tourist Corporation. The falls are located just a short distance from the city of Pietermaritzburg, capital of Natal.

Rodeos are held every night except Sunday during July and August at Cody, Wyo. The town, named for Buffalo Bill Cody, is about 50 miles east of Yellowstone National Park.

'Bounty' Showing On Peak Screen

In selecting talent to bring "Mutiny on the Bounty," starring Marlon Brando, Trevor Howard and Richard Harris and now showing on an exclusive limited engagement with performances at 1, 4:30 and 8 p.m. daily at the Peak Theatre, to screen life, everyone concerned was guided by one consideration — to find the absolute tops in every department.

Aaron Rosenberg was considered the perfect choice to produce. As the creator of such famed outdoor action films as "Bend of the River," "World in His Arms," "Winchester '73" and one of the all-time top grossing pictures, "The Glenn Miller Story," he was, it was felt, ideally suited by temperament and experience for the almost Herculean task of guiding the film safely past the hundreds of production shoals through which it would necessarily pass.

Vista-Vue Will Screen 'Action'

If his role in the new Paramount comedy, "Who's Got the Action?" had been that of a restaurant owner instead of a horse-playing lawyer, Dean Martin says he would have quit and fled to Italy.

Martin's antagonism toward owning a restaurant stems from his trouble with the Hollywood night spot, Dino's, with which he has been involved during the past few years. He sued to have his name removed from the establishment, but lost out in court.

"An actor has to be screwy to go into an 'I'm gonna open a restaurant' thing," Martin maintains. "As a matter of fact, there are three restaurants in 'Who's Got the Action?' and that almost scared me from doing the picture."

"Who's Got the Action?" in Technicolor starring Dean Martin and Lana Turner starts Sunday at the Vista-Vue Theatre.

Anthony Quinn and Jackie Gleason are starred in the second feature, "Requiem for a Heavyweight."

'Tammy, Doctor' Showing at Ute

The most modern "hospital" in the United States today is a movie set at Universal Studio.

Designed by art directors Alexander Golitzen and George Webb for use in the Ross Hunter production, "Tammy and the Doctor" to be seen at the Ute Theatre, starring Sandra Dee, Peter Fonda, Macdonald Carey and Beulah Bondi, the hospital set is completely functional and could even be used for actual surgery in an emergency.

Covering virtually all of the studio's second largest stage, the set includes admitting room, doctors' offices, patients' rooms, operating room, doctors' wash-up room and nurses' quarters. Portions of it are patterned after the new wing of the Hollywood Presbyterian Hospital, with the remainder being modernized adaptations of other California hospitals.

'Taste of Honey' Now at Sky-Vue

Local audiences will finally see England's most highly praised newcomer, Rita Tushingham, in the film "A Taste of Honey" now at the Skyvue Drive-in Theatre.

The young actress, who celebrated her 19th birthday the day shooting began on "A Taste of Honey" was just one year later an internationally acclaimed star, with an "Oscar" from the British Film Academy, a citation for top acting honors from the jury at the recent Cannes Film Festival and several offers of plum starring roles being dangled before her saucer-blue eyes.

All of this for her portrayal of "Jo" the waif-heroine of "A Taste of Honey" — her first motion picture.

Starting Wednesday, Rosalind Russell and Forrest Tucker are starred in "Auntie Mame."

'Messenger' Due Friday at Ute

For the first time in Hollywood annals no still photos of a group of top stars appearing in make-up will be released for publicity purposes or for theatre displays.

The stars are Tony Curtis, Kirk Douglas, Burt Lancaster, Robert Mitchum and Frank Sinatra, all of whom appear in fantastic disguises for their character delineations in the mystery melodrama, "The List of Adrian Messenger," a Joel Production directed by John Huston for Universal, opening Friday at the Ute Theatre as a Hollywood Preview Engagement.

The completed film has an epilog in which the stars remove their disguises and reveal their identities to the viewers. They were naturally photographed by the stillman during the filming of their scenes and the proofs put under lock and key. In addition, the revolutionary makeup process which each star went thru for three hours before reporting to the set, was also photographed step by step. A number of national magazines have already offered elaborate spreads in their publications if the studio would release these photos.

Instant Money

On the British Crown Colony of Bermuda, American money changes hands as constantly as the local money. Recently, the Bermuda Drug company ran out of American pennies, tried the local banks, and found they were out, too. So they telephoned a New York bank which sped 10,000 cents to Bermuda aboard BOAC's flight the same day.

With packing, the 100 dollars' worth of pennies weighed 100 pounds.

HOLLYWOOD — Edie Adams will do a striptease in the new movie, "Love With The Proper Stranger." Sounds like an appealing role.

Trips Over Out-of-Way Roads Gain Popularity

Driving for pure enjoyment will be the biggest new development in vacation fund this year, according to a champion race driver.

Sam Hanks, director of racing for the Indianapolis Motor Speedway and past winner of the Indianapolis 500, claims that taking a leisurely trip along out-of-the-way roads is gaining popularity.

"Last fall," he says, "thousands of motoring families shunned the

Africa's City

Pretoria, South Africa's administrative capital, is one of the most flower-decked cities in the world. Each October, reports the South African Tourist Corporation, some 50,000 jacaranda trees burst into bloom, cloaking the streets and avenues in a soft mist of mauve-colored blossoms.

At any season, however, Pretoria's public parks and gardens are botanical showplaces.

DESIGNING COUPLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The husband-wife designing team of William and Jean Eckart is at work on two major productions of Broadway's upcoming season.

Both are musicals: "Here's Love," by Meredith Willson, and "A Girl to Remember," by Betty Comden and Adolph Green. The Eckarts currently are represented on the hit parade with their settings for "She Loves Me."

SWIRE IN NEW POST

WINNIPEG, Man. (AP) — Willard Swire, former executive director of the American National Theater and Academy, is now in charge of the Manitoba Theater Center.

In addition to work here, Swire will maintain an office in New York for production of shows on Broadway and in London.

LEISURETIME BOOKS by John Feltz*Monsters Still Remain Of Interest to Readers

The MAYBE MONSTERS. By Gardner Soule. Putnam. $3.50.

Maybe, in the Pacific Northwest, there's a big-footed breed of man-like creatures called Sasquatch.

Weighing anywhere from 300 pounds to more than half a ton, according to observers' estimates, it was first sighted in 1864, and has been reported nearly every year since 1938. That's better than can be claimed for the Abominable Snowman.

There's always an explanation why a particular Sasquatch isn't captured or killed, but how such a race could exist for 100 years without some prime specimen being stuffed and mounted is not clear. Unless maybe it's just a tall tree country story.

Sasquatch is only one of the maybe monsters that Soule has written about in newspaper and magazine articles, and now has finally written up in a book.

There's the grey-necked lion of East Africa, the red-hair man of the woods of Venezuela, the long-headed and much dreaded nandi bear of Africa, the Australian tiger cat and 18 others — not all of which appear in the two previous volumes on the same general subject: "The Lungfish, the Dodo and the Unicorn," by Willy Ley, and "On the Trail of Unknown Animals," by Bernard Heuvelmans. Being essentially a writer rather than a scientist, Soule makes good reading out of sometimes nebulous evidence.

RED BLUEPRINT FOR THE WORLD. By John W. Drakford (Eerdman's Publishing Co., Grand Rapids, Michigan; $2, paperback) points out that the Communists have a detailed, thoroughly-coordinated plan of action for world domination. The author takes the writings of Marx, Lenin, Engels and Stalin, and dispels what he terms "the fog of Marxist cliches." He discovers the core of the teaching, and outlines the blueprint in a way that the least-educated on the subject of communism can understand. He labels the stages of world conquest as: Deception, Destruction, Dictatorship, Death and, ultimately, Disillusionment.

ESCAPE FROM RED CHINA. (Coward-McCann, 210 Madison Ave., New York City; $5.75) is the personal story of Robert Loh. An intelligent, highly-educated Chinese, he returned to Shanghai to contribute what he could toward reshaping China into a world power. The Communists, of course, welcome him back, but Loh tells how one disillusionment followed another. It took eight years to establish himself solidly enough with the Communist regime for them to relax their vigilance over him. Only then was he able to escape.

CHINA ONLY YESTERDAY
By Emily Hahn. Doubleday. 5.75.

A concise outline of China's history from the Opium War to the consolidation of Communist rule on the mainland — a period of roughly 100 years ending in 1950. It is another volume in the Mainstream of the Modern World series. Miss Hahn, biographer of the Soong sisters and one of the most articulate of the "old, China hands," makes Chinese history seem a bit livelier.

Imperial Players Open June 15 in Cripple Creek

Rehearsals for the 1963 production of the Imperial Players at the Imperial Hotel in Cripple Creek, "My Partner," or "A Rose With a Broken Stem," began Tuesday morning. The opening is set for 8:30 p.m., June 15. The 16th annual melodrama will play twice daily except Monday thru Sept. 7.

Playing the hero of the Gay 90's play, Joe Saunders, is Rory Donohue of Phoenix, Ariz. He is a drama student at the University of Arizona, Tucson, where he has been prominent in University Theatre.

Heroine of "My Partner" is another University of Arizona student, Meg Huntington, who is from Kentfield, Calif. She is president of University Players and vice president of National Collegiate Players and has been seen in many dramatic productions both in her home area and Tucson.

Ned Singleton, Joe's partner in a gold mining venture, will be played by Al Dobbs, a student at Lon Morris College in Jacksonville, Tex., where he is majoring in drama. He has also done radio and TV work in his hometown, Houston, Tex.

Wing Lee, a colorful and lovable Chinese servant, will be portrayed by Paul Cajero of Tucson, Ariz. He is also a University of Arizona student and most active in the dramatic department.

Ross Hughes from Oakland,

Calif., is cast as Major Henry Clay Britt, verbose legislative candidate. He has had much professional experience and only recently completed a two year tour with the Bishop's Company, famed theatrical group who present fine drama in churches of all denominations throughout the country.

Father of the heroine and proprietor of a gold camp hotel, Matthew Brandon, will be Wayne Whitehill, also a professional actor. He recently completed an eight month's tour with the National Children's Theater Association from Dallas, Tex. His home is Blue Island, Ill. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Drake University, Des Moines, Ia., and has done graduate work at the University of Denver.

Also from Denver University graduate school in theatre is Verlyn Leech who will play Josiah Scraggs, the scheming villain. Leech is a native of Livingston, Mont., and received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Rocky Mountain College in Billings. He has been active in theatre both in Montana and at the University of Denver.

Leech is married to the former Alta Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson of Conifer.

A thwarted ex-trapeze artist, Sam Bowler, will be portrayed by Ron Curfman from Winfield, Kan., where he also attends Southwestern College. He is a drama major and a musician.

Grace Brandon, the heroine's sister, will be played by Barbara Hayes, also from the University of Arizona and a resident of Kentfield, Calif. Miss Hayes is also prominent in the University Theatre as well as in dramatic activities in her home region.

An amusing character part, that of Posie, the hotel maid, will be taken by Melody Wanamaker of Denver. A student of theatre at the University of Denver, Miss Wanamaker is well known in the Denver area as an actress and for her work in specialty shows.

Pianist for the Gold Bar Room Theatre will again be Bob Goodnow, who is back for his fourth consecutive season.

England's Palm Trees

Did you know palm trees grow in a part of England? They're on the southern coast of England in an area known as the Cornish and Devon Riviera. Responsible is the warm Gulf Stream which flows across the North Atlantic from North America and warms the coastline, says DOAC.

HOLLYWOOD — Frank Sinatra takes Jill St. John on a week-end ski trip in "Come Blow Your Horn," but they have to stay indoors due to bad weather — a heavy snowfall.

HERALD. By Eric Hawkins. Simon & Schuster. $5.95.

The Paris Herald Tribune is distributed in 71 countries — even behind the Iron Curtain; it has a circulation of about 60,000. It also has the "golden dozen" — 12 pretty girls in bright yellow sweaters hawking the paper along the boulevards. It also had, until recently, Eric Hawkins, a diminutive Englishman whose father and grandfather worked for the London Times. Hawkins joined the Paris Herald the night the Lusitania was sunk by German submarines and eventually became the paper's managing editor, is co-author of this book. His fellow newspaperman, Robert N. Sturdevant, assisted Hawkins with the book, which includes portraits of the more prominent people connected with the newspaper — James Gordon Bennett, Elliott Paul, Ezra Pound, Sparrow Robertson.

AUTHOR — Georges Simenon, creator of the famous Inspector Maigret, has written 185 books under his own name and an estimated 300 under a nom de plume. Most of those under his own name are about Maigret.

But during a stop-off in Paris on his way back to Switzerland Simenon told UPI that his next work will be something different.

"I only have some idea at the moment of the color of the story, its rhythm and the sort of smell of it," he said. "The characters will be born as the story progresses."

It was mostly that way with the greater part of Simenon's prodigious literary output. The story built itself as it went along.

But it has paid handsome dividends. Simenon has collected a fortune from the book, film and television rights of his main character and anything with the name Simenon nowadays is guaranteed a big sale.

While he talked about some of his books, Simenon agreed he had never laid a plot in any form of present-day politics.

"Politics is a word I hate," he said. "I left Belgium when I was 20, before I was old enough to vote, and I never have voted in my life because I've always been outside my own country."

Railway Museum

Railway buffs, vacationing in South Africa, are certain to enjoy visiting the Railways Museum in Johannesburg's main terminal building. Quaint old locomotives, scale models, old photographs and many other exhibits trace the history of the Republic's railroading from 1860 to the present day. According to the South African Tourist Corporation, the museum is open weekdays from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. and on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 12 noon. Admission is free.

There are about 7,000 books about tobacco in the Arends Collection in the New York Public Library.

Jazz Music Offered at Music Camps

Two American traditions — jazz and enjoying the great outdoors — are now sharing summer's light.

One-third of the nation's more than 160 summer music camps are offering instruction in instrumental jazz and popular music.

A decade ago jazz instruction at music camps was as rare as the aurora borealis.

Commenting on the increase in stage (or jazz) band instruction in summer music study, Marion Egbert, educational consultant for American Music Conference, says: "With one of every five high schools now including jazz band instruction in addition to the basic band and orchestra program, more music students are adding jazz to summer studies."

An outstanding example of the summer study of jazz is the expansion of the National Stage Band Camp, now in its fifth year. One-week sessions, featuring the instruction talents of such professional stars as Stan Kenton, composer-conductor Johnny Richards and others, will be held this summer at five universities: Connecticut (beginning July 20), Michigan State (August 4), Indiana (August 11), Denver (August 18), and Nevada (August 25 in Reno).

Any boy or girl, 14 years old or over, with at least six months of musical training, may attend. Applications may be forwarded to the non-profit National Stage Band Camp, Box 221, South Bend, Ind.

Similar developments in summer music programs, as well as in all fields of instrumental music, are contributing factors to the 350 per cent increase in summer music camp attendance since 1950 according to AMC.

Powerful Cruising

To equal the cruising speed of a Rolls-Royce-powered Boeing 707 jetliner, a piston-powered propeller airliner would need at least 30 engines, says BOAC the airline which flies the American-made jets all over the world.

HOLLYWOOD — When Bonanza's Dan Blocker punched Frank Sinatra in the nose in a scene in "Come Blow Your Horn," Frank complained, "That's no way to treat a fellow lover of filies."

Carpeting New Thing for Boats

Men who go down to the sea in ships these days usually have wifey along as first mate. The feminine hand is seen in laminated flowers on tabletop and ruffles at the port hole. Another growing feature is the use of carpeting. Acrylic carpeting takes well to the sea since water will not hurt it and it cleans easily.

The Panama Canal is 50 miles long and the average transit time is eight hours.

ARTS CHRONICLE by John Fetler

Five-State Crafts Meeting Slated at Denver Museum

CRAFTS — The problems and prospects of the regional artist-craftsman will be explored at a five-state conference of the American Craftsmen's Council to be held at the Denver Art Museum June 14-16.

Esther Webb Houseman of Dallas, craftsman-trustee of ACC's South Central Region, has announced that the conference is open to all artist-craftsmen in the region, whether or not they are ACC members. The region embraces Arkansas, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas.

Conference chairman is George Woodman of Boulder, Colo., a senior state representative of ACC.

The program for the three-day meeting includes illustrated lectures by some of the country's top craftsmen, panel discussions and an exhibition of ACC members' work.

Among the principal speakers will be jeweler Wiltz Harrison, weaver Lea Van P. Miller and potter Paul Soldner. Harrison teaches design, jewelry making and enameling at Texas Western College, Miller is professor of design at the University of California, and Soldner teaches at Scripps College. Working craftsmen as well as teachers, all three are award-winning exhibitors in major crafts exhibition.

Each ACC member attending has been invited to enter four examples of his work in an exhibition which will be shown in the Denver museum's Living Art Center during the conference.

A highlight of the conference will be the awarding of a $500 study and research grant recently set up by Southwest Smelting and Refining Co., Inc. of Dallas. The purpose of the grant is "to advance the recipient's knowledge of the use of precious metals in the crafts through experimentation and study."

FROM ETHIOPIA—Jean Favre, who is production manager for Miriam Makeba, writes from Ethiopia, where the singing star performed for the heads of states of the new African nations at their recent conference: "Greetings from the land of the Lion and the Cross... Tonight is the big night. I have to go to His Majesty's palace this morning to organize the entertainment portion of this gala affair. (The African Summit Meeting.) They will first sign the Charter in the Old Palace which has been refurbished, then go to the Grand Hall which has also been done over to have dinner and after dinner we do our command performance. I really have technical problems here (as production manager) . . . but I can say Ethiopia has been a real challenge . . . We will stop in London on the way home . . ."

POP ART — There seems to be some difference of opinion as to whether "Pop Art" has "arrived" or already is on the way out. Currently much is being said in certain magazines about pop art, since a show of this type is currently on view at the Museum of Modern Art.

Miles A. Smith, AP arts editor, has a rather crisp way of dealing with the subject. He says: "Curator Dorothy C. Miller picked out these 15 exhibitors on the premise that they should be more fully known. Known for what, the catalogue does not say."

Among the "objects of art" to be seen at the show are, what Smith describes as: "Half a dozen very black, very dull, squares . . . confused furnace ducts . . . grayish newspaper clippings . . . spatter-work in which the blobs tend to be concentrated at the center . . . wood carvings with attachments, such as feet, or plaster hands . . . chunks of plaster, some resemble undigestible pastries, or a pair of cheeseburgers . . . etc."

Seems that Smith does not go for much of other "modern" art either, which he labels as the "double-unthink."

SHORT ART HISTORY — How come artists are being forgotten? Of the countless of artists of by-gone ages, how many are really remembered? A graphic example of the process of "forgetting," and yet, obviously a necessary process, is the creation of "short histories."

The latest is "A Short History of Painting in America" by Edgar P. Richardson, published by Crowell. Naturally, in a short history, something must be left out. And, what is left out is a matter for the author-critic to decide (for by compiling such a book, the art historian inevitably becomes a critic.) (Richardson had published a highly praised "Painting in America" in 1956, of which the present book is a cut version.

How is this accomplished? The present volume "has been telescoped about 40 per cent," the publishers explain, "chiefly through elimination of minor figures." Well, it can't be helped. That's the process of history. Unless someone, in a future age, discovers that one of the minor figures turns out, after all, to have been a major one.

The author's measure of art is interesting. To him the aim of American painting in every aspect is "freshness." Which is a most curious standard to be applied to an art which in its essence is illusion and artifice. And yet, by it undoubtedly he expresses an ideal which is current not only in the visual arts, but in the literary as well.

CAMERAS — As to the art of photography, curious changes seem to be coming over the camera market. Some firms are putting in what could be called makeshift arrangements, while others seem to have plunged headlong into the development of new systems.

In this, Zeiss seems once again to be in the forefront, taking the initiative from Leica, Rollei and others (not to speak of Agfa or Kodak). We are speaking about the matter of design, not of mass sales, of course.

The "automation" of cameras seems to have brought a revolution not only in camera design, but in marketing as well. Even the super-chains, such as Sears and Wards, which used to carry the more expensive camera styles, seem to have given them up in favor of the automated products.

Whether the automated cameras will take over the market completely remains to be seen. It is doubtful, at least in the higher price range. The simple reason is that obsolescence has been stepped up. A coupled light meter goes out of whack easier than the old-fashioned camera.

Apart from the automation, the trend seems definitely to be in the direction not only of single lens reflex cameras, but of zoom lenses as well. Even Leica has admitted a rumor that at some time in the future it plans to enter the single lens reflex field, assuring present camera owners that the new system — whenever it will be completed — will be fully compatible with the present system.

As for the zoom, Japanese German and American firms have been working on the problem, and some of them have come up with zoom lenses. Since the sharpness has to be far superior to those used in movie cameras, none of these lenses have as yet seem to have found universal acceptance among camera experts, and further work for still camera zoom is being pushed by all the firms.

A zoom, to be sure, would be a great boon to photo addicts. The first still camera zoom attempts had the difficulty in sharpness but this problem is reported to have been solved by a European firm.

Post Office Tree

One of the most popular sights at the fishing town of Mossel Bay is an ancient milkwood known as "The Post Office Tree." According to the South African Tourist Corporation, early mariners left their mail at the old tree to be picked up later by the crews of passing ships. The Post Office Tree is now a national monument.

About 80 per cent of the government's expenditures of the national level are for security purposes.

Max Morath's Ragtime Show at Fine Arts Center

Colorado Springs' own Max Morath, national television personality and official spokesman for ragtime music, will return home for a one night engagement 8:15 p.m. June 20, at the Colorado Springs Fine Arts Center.

Morath's show, "Ragtime Revisited," is being presented as one of the Fine Arts Center's regular members programs for members and guests. Tickets for the 450-seat theater have been offered to members during the past week and any remaining will go on sale to the public Monday at $2 per ticket for as long as they last.

Members who have ordered tickets are reminded that they must be picked up at the Fine Arts Center desk before Monday as any tickets remaining will be sold.

Morath, who now lives in Denver, has recently scored national fame for his two original series for National Educational Television (NET) in New York on ragtime. The programs which he wrote and performed, "The Ragtime Era" and "Turn of the Century" are currently being seen nationwide.

Traveling widely, Morath also keeps up a busy schedule of engagements for clubs and conventions.

tions. He has taken to the college circuit, presenting shows for student audiences from Stanford to New York University and dozens in between.

He has been the subject of articles in both "Time" and "Newsweek" magazines during the past year and has been called the "ideal spokesman" for ragtime by "Variety" magazine.

Born in Colorado Springs in the late 1920s, Morath had early contact with the songs of yesteryear through his mother, Mrs. Gladys Morath, who played them at the old Princess Theater here in the silent-movie era. He graduated from Colorado College with a degree in English and picked up experience as a radio announcer, an actor with a Phoenix stock company, a writer and director.

His affinity for ragtime, along with his fame, became apparent at the Imperial Hotel in Cripple Creek where he excited crowds with his "honky-tonk piano" during the summer melodrama program.

Dressed in derby hat, string tie, colorful vest and sleeve garters, Morath plays and sings the happy music of yesteryear, using as a framework a brand of humor and satire strictly of the present.

Weather Ebb Tide of Public Opinion

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — As wholesome as Grandma's cookies and as uncomplicated as a baby's rattle.

Or, call them "The Indestructibles" — television's longest-running, regularly scheduled, general appeal shows. It is 14 years for one, 13 for the next two and 10 years or more for seven others.

Their magical formulas for success?

Elementary, Watson.

They have survived the electronic jungle's competitive head-hunters and the public's fickle fancy with six simple ingredients — vaudeville, comedy, people and kids, folksy outdoor drama, guessing games and modern Cinderellas wishing in public.

You know them in the program logs (but perhaps not by age) as: The Ed Sullivan Show, 14 years. What's My Line, 13 years. The Jack Benny Program, 13 years. Death Valley Days, 12 years. The Red Skelton Show, 11 years. I've Got a Secret, 11 years. Art Linkletter's House Party, 11 years. Ozzie and Harriet, 11 years. The Danny Thomas Show, 10 years. Queen For a Day, 10 years.

Close behind these marathon runners are Truth or Consequences and the Voice of Firestone, both at nine years. In their wake are other current favorites such as Gunsmoke, Lawrence Welk and the U. S. Steel Hour (all eight years) and Wagon Train and Leave It to Beaver, both six.

Some of the television's daytime soap operas (Search for Tomorrow and Love of Life, at 12 years and The Guiding Light, 11 years) are hardy perennials. So is NBC's news, weather and what - have - you show, Today, also at 11 years.

Today is hardly entertainment, and the soap operas are limited in appeal. To them, honorable mention.

To "The Indestructibles," we give the honors of champions. Their long lives in the fast-moving world of television are curious. Now that television's novelty has vanished, the medium has discovered the bitter tea of a capricious public.

Western heroes have been replaced in public favor by medics. Comedians zoomed to dizzy heights and disappeared. So did singers and dancers, puppets and quiz shows and private eyes. Even Desi no longer loves Lucy.

This season Buddy Ebsen led the Beverly Hillbillies to the Old Hickory Bucket award as the nation's favorite television show.

Deroy Stevens Wins First In Focus Club Competition

First place winner for the open black-and-white competition of the Focus Club during May went to Deroy Stevens for, "Getting Acquainted."

The club, which met at the Congregational Church library had "alleys" as its May subject.

For first place in subject, "black-and-white," Helen Owen won with "Four Feet Wide." She also won honorable mention with "What'll We Play."

Helen Owen also won second place and honorable mention in open black-and-white for "Want to Buy a Big One?" and "Dizzy Descent," respectively.

Color slides for subject the first place was taken by Amy Hamilton with "King of the Alley," Betty Fowler second with "Alley Resident." "A Crooked Fence," by Harold Wilcox was chosen third, first honorable mention for John Fowler's "Hung Over," and second honorable mention to Leda Varney for "Growing Wild."

Color open first place was "Spring," by Bill Bowers. Rosemary Landon's "In Orbit" placed second; and third was "Portrait" by John Fowler.

First, second, and third honorable mention respectively was "The Flame" by Bill Bowers.

"Snow, Snow Everywhere" by Nancy Eck, and "Bird of Paradise" by Hilda Mullen.

A number of color slides were shown by Frances Smith, for the El Paso County "Old Courthouse" Building, detailed architecture, the columns and doorways, and of the remarkable hand carvings over arched doorways.

Open-Air Drama

FRANKFURT — Theatre-goers who have never seen a famous English play done in German can sample Shakespeare and Shaw at the Luisenburg Festival. This event is staged at Wunsiedel in the Fichtelgebirge Mountains. "St. Joan" and "Measure for Measure" will be performed on the outdoor stage until Aug. 18.

PRICE SEEMED RIGHT

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The property on which the capital city of Kentucky was built was sold for 300,000 pounds of tobacco in 1792, shortly before Kentucky became a state.

A local merchant bought the site from Gen. James Wilkinson, who earlier had obtained it from Humphrey Marshall, lawyer, writer and later U. S. Senator, for $433.

ROSE RISES AGAIN

NEW YORK (AP) — Billy Rose plans to start making "softhearted noise" as a Broadway impresario again.

Rose, missing from production activities since staging "The Immortalist" in 1964, has tentative plans to do both a dramatic show and a musical at the Ziegfeld Theater which he owns. And, he adds, he is looking for other shows that will give audiences "bubbles in the blood."

MORAL SUPPORT

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — From the Ohio AFL-CIO publication "News and Views":

"A new AA has been formed, known as Athletes Anonymous. When you get an urge to go for a 50-mile hike, you go to your neighbor's house. He talks you out of it and then drives you home."

INDIAN DANCERS — Authentic Indian dances at the Flying W Ranch, 6100 Wilson Rd., will be among scenes on a special program at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday on KRDO-TV, Channel 13. The tradition of the old west—chuckwagon-style dinners, western entertainment, and rustic surroundings, will be the theme of the show. It is the third in the local series, "Conoco Tele-Tours."

Coastal Charts Help Explorers

PART NINE

By JIM MARTEHOFF

After gaining some experience and confidence, the outboarder rapidly tires of his own lake or bay.

He wants to see more of this fascinating water world.

Some explore the hard way, pushing down strange channels and finding shoals by running on them. Some use government charts, and knowledge of buoys and channel markers.

Every marker is located on the chart of the area by number; that way you always know where you are, can steer for the next buoy—and avoid chart-indicated shoals along the way.

It's that simple.

Coastal charts are produced by the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, and sold through a limited number of sales agents so corrections because of changing conditions can be more easily made. Your dealer will know where they can be purchased. You can also write the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, Washington 25, D. C., and ask for a free chart catalog of the coastal area in which you live, after which you can order charts by mail.

The Great Lakes and the major river systems—Mississippi, Ohio, Missouri and others—are charted by the U. S. Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, headquartered in major river cities: Detroit, Vicksburg, Miss., Chicago, Omaha, and Cincinnati.

CHARTS SHOW UNSAFE WATERS

A landsman's road map shows you where to go; a chart, on the other hand, shows you where not to go. It locates all channels, buoys and markers, shoals and bars, rocks, wrecks, and tells you the depth of the water, clearance at bridges, and supplies a wealth of other data.

Few charts cost over one dollar.

For two dollars you can buy booklet charts, accordion-folded between cardboard protective covers. Developed recently by the Survey because of the massive increase in pleasure boating (principally outboating), the booklet charts so far only cover waters in parts of Florida, around Washington D. C., part of Connecticut and some of the Northwest Coast.

The principal navigation aid to the boatman, is the floating buoy or piling-supported marker. All buoys or markers on the right side of the channel when entering a harbor are red. They are always conical shaped (termed "nun" buoys) and always carry even numbers. Port (left) side buoys are always can-shaped, are always black, and always bear odd numbers.

EASY TO BE AN EXPERT

A simple rule defines direction: You keep all red buoys on your right when "returning" from sea. Head upstream toward the head of navigation, whether actually coming in from sea or not, and you are "returning." Here's the rule: Red...Right...Returning. The three R's.

The right side of the famed Intra-coastal Waterway, winding down the Atlantic Seaboard from

COLORADO SPRINGS KENNEL CLUB NOTES

by Mary Urban

I hope you missed me. I was under the weather for a couple weeks but now am ready to join my fellow kennel club members in getting this show on the road. By show, of course, I mean the 18th annual All Breed Dog Show June 23 in Penrose Stadium across the lake from the Broadmoor Hotel.

For many years we held our show in the stadium and had the reputation of being the "Most beautiful dog show in the U.S."

This is also the 15th annual Obedience show in conjunction with the conformation show.

This is an unbenced show which means that the dogs do not have to be present only for their showing time. A benched show requires the dog to be on the grounds from the opening to the closing hour of the show.

As soon as we get the judging schedule, the approximate time each breed will be judged, we will pass along the information to you.

We expect a record entry of about 700 dogs from California, Massachusetts, Texas, from Florida to Alaska, and Canada. These dogs, for the most part are truly fine specimens of their breeds. You will see all sizes from the tiny chihuahua to the giant St. Bernard.

It would be hard to measure the countless hours spent in the grooming and training of these dogs or of the dollars spent on professional handlers, entry fees, gasoline, food, grooming brushes, clippers, etc. This is a big business and getting bigger all the time.

Championship dog shows and obedience trials under American Kennel Club rules increased in 1962. There were 901 licensed dog shows compared to 880 in 1961. Obedience trials numbered 579, an increase of 17. There were 752 field trials in 1962.

During 1962, a total of 421,837 dogs competed in the three kinds of title events — shows, obedience and field trials.

San Marion has issued a beautiful new set of art treasures. The 30 lire reproduces the painting of the veiled "Fornarina," now in the Palazzo Pitti at Florence. The 70 lire features Rafael's self portrait. The 100 lire shows a portrait of a woman from the painting of the Sistine Madonna. The 200 lire depicts a portrait of Maddalena Strozzi, which is now in the Borghese Gallery in Rome.

Iran has announced the issuance of a 2R and 6R set of stamps commemorating International Labor Day. Also issued by that country were two new stamps marking the Shah's Agrarian Reform Act. Depicted is a portrait of the Shah and a scroll with an ornamental border.

Highway System

FRANKFURT — Motorists will find new opportunities in Germany during the next few years, as the highway system is extended.

By 1966, some 2,200 miles will be added to the federal network, and another 600 miles will lengthen the autobahn routes.

GRANT FOR PLAYWRITING

NEW HAVEN (AP) — A playwriting fellowship has been established at Yale's Drama School in memory of John Golden, Broadway theatrical producer.

The annual $4,800 grant is designed to give selected graduates a year of residence at the university to develop works for the stage.

First recipient of the fellowship is Joel Ohansky, a New Yorker who received his master of fine arts degree last year.

SOMETHING FOR GWEN

NEW YORK (AP) — An off-beat musical comedy idea is being mulled by Choreographer Bob Fosse as a vehicle for his wife, Dance Star Gwen Verdon.

Fosse says he's been thinking about the theme for five years, but declines details. A collaborator on dialogue and a composer are yet to be selected.
